Hi Chris,

Thanks for sending this over, what a great piece!

There is no confirmed date as yet. At our last meeting we learned that the project is still running behind, further even than the end June date we originally hoped for. This does mean we are having to look at pushing the press day back, but obviously want to avoid August. We are currently waiting for further details from St Martin's about completion dates and will then hope to get a date in the diary. It is frustrating, but we'll keep you in the loop with progress.

Best wishes,

Sarah
