Hi Chris

Apologies it has taken a while to get back to you.

Thank you for all the work undertaken to help us build our website. I felt that you had a great feel for what style I wanted the website to be written in and then you made it specific for our industry.

The words you have provided make us stand out as opposed to other IFA websites that come across dull and full of technical jargon. I feel you have made our website interesting to read and engaging for the readers. I felt confident enough to let you get on with the job whilst I concentrated on running my company, which not only saved me time but saved a lot of angst.

Thanks

Wayne
